Choosing The Right Miele Commercial Washing Machine

These are the type of questions that you need to ask when choosing a Miele Commercial washing machine...

What kind of items will you be washing?

This may sound like a simple question but the type of items you will be washing will have an effect on the type of Miele washing machine that you will need

For example:

If you are a care home or the NHS, then it will be vital that the washing machine that you choose has a disinfection wash so that you can wash linen and clothes at the correct was temperatures for disinfection purposes.

Or if you are a stables or livery yard you may want to wash horse blankets, in which case you will need to look at the weight of the blankets you want to wash and the type of machine you need to wash them in.

What volume of items do you need to wash and how often?

The volume of items you want to wash is also important as it will determine the size of washing machine that is required.

For example:

If you are a hotel, you may have up to 60 kg of towels and linen to wash each day. This means that you need to choose a washing machine with a larger capacity e.g. 32kg as this means that you will only have to put on 2 washes a day, rather than 10 with a smaller 6kg machine.

What extra features do you require?

You may want high spin speeds to reduce drying time, or specific programmes for gentle washes? Energy performance may be important to you, or machines that will auto dose the detergent so that you use just the right amount. It is important to consider features like these as they will have a bearing on the type of washing machine that you choose.
